

EBAA and SBAA postpone Swiss Business Aviation Day

29 February, 2020 (Brussels). The European Business Aviation Association (EBAA) and the Swiss Business Aviation Association (SBAA) today announced that they will postpone the Swiss Business Aviation Day given health concerns in the wake of the Coronavirus outbreak.

The decision came as the Swiss authorities also decided to cancel all events in Switzerland until 15 March. The Swiss Business Aviation Day event was scheduled to take place in Bern on 5 March.

EBAA and SBAA consider participating attendees and government leaders as partners, and as with all our events, their health, safety and security is our highest priority.

When the situation changes, EBAA and SBAA will confirm a new date for the event. Updates will be communicated as soon as possible.
