EBAA Press Release

EBAA Week 2026 Unveils Skyhall exhibition lineup and dedicated Association Hub

Brussels, 07 October 2026. The European Business Aviation Association (EBAA) is bringing companies and organisations from across the business aviation value chain together at Skyhall, Brussels Airport, as part of the first EBAA Week, taking place from 16 to 18 November 2026.

On Tuesday 17 and Wednesday 18 November, Skyhall by Brussels Airport will become the central meeting point for the sector, bringing exhibitors, operators, airports, FBOs, ground handlers, manufacturers, technology providers and other aviation organisations together under one roof.

The exhibition will give participants the opportunity to meet the companies providing the products, services and expertise that support business aviation every day. Confirmed exhibitors represent a broad cross-section of the sector, from operational and flight-planning support to sustainability, medical assistance, technology and aircraft services.

Among the companies already confirmed are 4AIR, AviaVIP, Bombardier, CardioSecur, Click Aviation Network, FCG OPS, Grace Jet, Jet Aviation, Leon Software, Luxaviation, MedAire, MD ONBOARD, Stellair, Skylegs, Streamlane and UAS International Trip Support, with further exhibitors to be announced. Together, they reflect the diversity of the business aviation ecosystem and the wide range of expertise that supports operators and professionals across Europe.

Alongside the exhibition, EBAA Week will also feature a dedicated Association Hub, offering participants the opportunity to meet and connect with national business aviation associations including:

- European Business Aviation Association France
- Spanish Business Aviation Association
- Irish Business and General Aviation Association
- Italian Business Aviation Association

The Hub will provide a shared space for dialogue on national priorities, industry developments and the challenges facing business aviation across Europe.

Rather than standing separately from the conference programme, the exhibition will sit at the heart of EBAA Week at Skyhall. Participants will be able to move between the exhibition floor, AIROPS sessions, the Business Aviation Safety & Innovation Conference (BASIC), the European Business Aviation Summit (EBAS) and networking opportunities throughout the two days.

EBAA Week will unfold across two key aviation venues in Brussels. The first day, 16 November, will take place at EUROCONTROL Headquarters with the Business Aviation Flight Dispatcher Day. On 17 and 18 November, the event will move to Skyhall at Brussels Airport, where the exhibition, AIROPS, BASIC and EBAS will come together in one shared setting.

This reflects the wider ambition of EBAA Week: to create a place where the different parts of European business aviation can meet, exchange experience and discuss the operational, regulatory and business issues shaping the sector.
